Welcome to Lisburn

Enjoy
Lisburn,
where business is always a pleasure

A vibrant and rapidly growing City, Lisburn also enjoys some of Ireland's most beautiful countryside. With a range of outstanding venues offering state-of-the-art facilities, Lisburn is an ideal conference location.

When it's time to relax you can unwind with tours through our delightful Historic Quarter or absorb our enthralling heritage at an atmospheric castle, fort, historic houses and museums. There are so many ways to enjoy the beautiful scenery at our doorstep too. Choose from teeing off at some of Northern Ireland's finest golf courses or world-class angling, walking, cycling and horse riding. As the evening gathers pace, there's live music, activities and exhibitions at the Island Arts Centre, the latest in cinema, dance music at chic bars or welcoming traditional pubs.

Whatever your taste in food, you'll find wonderful meals at restaurants that cover the globe, from the flavours of Asia to mouthwatering Italian cuisine, as well as award-winning gastro pubs in charming villages and enticing menus at a host of wonderful cafés. Shopping is a joy, from the latest in designer label fashion at the elegant Bow Street Mall to the giants of retail at Sprucefield, colourful traditional markets in lovely Lisburn Square to antique and crafts shops in historic villages.

So easy to get to and around, Lisburn is just off the main Dublin to Belfast route and only a short drive from two international airports.

Mix business with pleasure

There's so much to see and do in Lisburn

When you've time to take out from your busy schedule, from an hour to a day, you'll find so many ways to refresh the spirit. Come and explore our fascinating heritage on a self-guided trail around our atmospheric Historic Quarter, and learn about the famous Irish linen industry. Many beautiful buildings remain from this golden age, not least the 17th century market house where cottage weavers once brought their wares to sell and which today houses the Irish Linen Centre and Lisburn Museum. See those skills recreated as you experience the enthralling story of Irish linen.

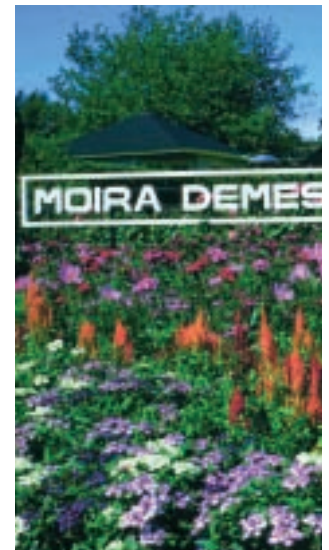

You can savour the taste of traditional Ulster food, see some rare breed animals and re-live the traditional age of farming at Brookhall Historical Farm, while the award-winning Ballance House, the childhood home of 19th century New Zealand prime minister John Ballance, is an exquisite recreation of an early Victorian house.

Step back to another age in our gloriously unspoilt villages. Enjoy the famous floral delights of Georgian Moira with its beautiful demesne and the elegant 18th century village of Hillsborough. Tour in the footsteps of royalty and famous politicians at Hillsborough Castle, and relax in its delightful rose garden and riverside paths.

Nearby, our medieval past lives on at Hillsborough Fort, near to the lovely Hillsborough Forest. Further afield, you can discover an even more ancient history at the unique Stone Age Giant's Ring, or stroll through beautiful Colin Glen Forest Park, whose tranquil wooded glens are brimming with wildlife.

Shopping heaven

You'll find something to delight every taste in the City of Lisburn

If you love to shop then Lisburn is your dream come true. Famous for the rich diversity of our shopping experience, we offer everything from chic fashion boutiques to traditional Irish crafts, bustling shopping centres to colourful country markets.

Superb shops in one stunning location in the heart of the City, that's the recipe for success at the elegant Bow Street Mall, where over 60 outlets offer everything from designer label fashion to stylish homeware. Nearby, the innovative Lisburn Square, set around a square of elegant Georgian and Victorian buildings, hosts some of the finest retail names in the UK and Ireland, as well as traditional markets each Tuesday and Saturday.

With cosmopolitan cafés and delightful restaurants at every turn, Lisburn has all the big High Street names and many fascinating local shops too, while just outside the City, you can find the biggest names in retail at Sprucefield Shopping Centre and Sprucefield Park.

Take a break from your conference and spend a day or two exploring the fascinating shops in our beautiful historic villages, stopping off at charming cafés and award-winning gastro pubs. Choose from a range of sublime Irish crafts, from ceramics to Celtic jewellery, and search for the treasures of our past at atmospheric antique shops, including Northern Ireland's largest in the village of Ballinderry. And what could be more relaxing than a stroll around the Georgian charms of Hillsborough before savouring the unique atmosphere of a traditional country fair in its 18th century Market House?

Unwind in style

There are so many ways to enjoy yourself in Lisburn

From magical nights of craic at welcoming pubs to top drama and comedy and fabulous live music of all kinds, there are so many ways to enjoy yourself in Lisburn.

You'll discover a world of entertainment at the Island Arts Centre in the heart of Lisburn, one of the most exciting in Ireland. For over five years this ground-breaking venue has hosted the best of stand-up comedy, powerful drama and music of all kinds from classical maestros to the masters of rock, as well as exhibitions by leading artists in their field. Nearby, the 14-screen Omniplex has the latest in film from around the world.

Along with acclaimed gastro pubs in delightful 18th century villages serving superb contemporary Irish food at very reasonable prices, you can choose from a whole world of wonderful food, including Indian,

Mexican, Chinese and Italian cuisine, and of course, the finest freshly caught fish and seafood at restaurants throughout the area.

Taste our famous local beer along with award-winning food at the Hilden Brewery, Ireland's oldest independent brewery, housed in a former linen baron's mansion. Enjoy wonderful food and drink while at Ireland's oldest and most atmospheric racecourse, Down Royal. And when it comes to fun, how can you beat nights of invigorating music at the friendliest pubs you'll ever find. Finally, if you have the energy, you can turn up the beat with pulsating dance music at our contemporary bars and clubs.

When it's time to stretch your muscles, you'll find a wonderful world of sports to enjoy in Lisburn. Imagine teeing off in idyllic surroundings at golf clubs just a short drive from your conference venue.

Northern Ireland is one of the world's top golfing destinations and several of its finest parkland courses can be found in Lisburn. What could be more relaxing than trekking on horseback through forest, hills and remote country roads? From beginners upwards you will find expert tuition and superb facilities at our top-class equestrian centres and riding schools, while course and game anglers from all over Europe flock to the shores of Lough Neagh, the largest freshwater lake in the British Isles and to our well-stocked fisheries and rivers.

You can cycle on the award-winning 'Best Urban Cycling Network Route' from the heart of Lisburn along the Lagan towpath past parkland, wild moor and forest or take the fabulous Loughshore Trail around the UK's biggest and oldest lake, Lough Neagh. Walkers can also hike through dense forest parks and rolling hills or over mountain paths with spectacular views that seem to stretch forever. Want to burn off some energy? Check out the diving pool, competition pool and high-tech gym and fitness suite at the state-of-the-art Lagan Valley LeisurePlex in the centre of Lisburn.

For sheer fun and the best of hospitality, it's hard to beat the classic horse races at Down Royal, Ireland's oldest and most atmospheric racecourse or the world-class motorcycle road racing at the famous Dundrod circuit.
